New Education Policy gives priority for Education in mother tongue

Syas Governor Bhagat Singh Koshyari at Suryadatta Lifetime Achievement Awards conferring ceremony

Pune : "There are many innovative provisions in the new education policy. It includes education in the mother tongue, moral and ethical values and many others. Today, there is an atmosphere of self-reliance in the country as per the call and initiatives taken by our Prime Minister Narendra Modi. To take this in mind, we need to give preference for value-based education, which is helpful to become an Atma Nirbhar," said Bhagat Singh Koshyari, Honorable Governor of Maharashtra. He also expressed optimism that "Ram Rajya" will come true only by imitating the values of life.

On the occasion of the 23rd foundation day of Suryadatta Education Foundation, Suryadatta Group of Institutes presented 'Suryadatta Lifetime Achievement Award' and 'Suryadatta National Award' to dignitaries from various fields. The ceremony was held at Suryabhavan, Pune campus of Suryadatta Group of Institutes at Bawadhan. Renowned scientist Dr. Vijay Bhatkar, Founder President of Ahimsa Vishwa Bharati Dr. Lokesh Muniji, Bhajansamrat Anoop Jalota, veteran actor Raza Murad, Suryadatta's founder president Prof. Dr. Sanjay Chordia, Vice President and Secretary Sushma Chordia, Executive Development Officer Siddhant Chordia & others were present.

'Suryadatta Lifetime Achievement Award' was presented to T. B. Solabakkanwar (Posthumously) in the field of Arts and Culture, veteran actor Kiran Kumar (Indian Cinema), Abhaya Sri Simal Jain (Global Entrepreneurship), Dr. Mukund Gurjar (Science and Technology), Vikram Rajdan (Director and Producer), Dr. R. M. Agarwal (Medical Social Services), Krishna Prakash (Public Service, Health and Fitness), Jyotsna Chopra (Environmental Conservation).

'Suryadatta National Award' were given to Pandit Vijay Ghate (Indian Classical Music), Dr. Adyasha Das (Tourism and Indian Heritage), Ajinkya Dev (Indian Cinema), Sajan Shah (Motivational Speaker), Lavanya Raja (Global Entrepreneurship), Riya Jain (Fine Arts-Painting), Radhika AJ (Creative Arts).

Bhagat Singh Koshyari said, "In every field requires dedication and hard work. Many areas of entrepreneurship are marking today. We must seize those opportunities. We should be honest and transparent in our work. We have seen transparency in the work of the central government for the last six years. The Padma Award is its epitome. There is a lot of talent in rural India and I am seeing that the children in the village are becoming IAS, IPS. We should take the consideration of our mother tongue."

Dr. Vijay Bhatkar said, "The primary education should be in the mother tongue. We have many languages in our country, all languages are rich and they have thousands of years of tradition. Even after traveling to many countries, the question was what can we do for the villages in our country. Our universities should be knowledgeable. And there is a need for value-based education institutions today. I am happy that Suryadatta foundation is working so hard in this matter. "

Raza Murad said, "Today, I am happy to give awards to two young girls. The house always progresses where there are the girls. Their parents recognized their skills and encouraged them. Congratulations to them. Kiran Kumar and I completed 50 years in the film industry. We got here with a lot of hard work and dedication. Life has to be dedicated every time."

Prof. Dr. Sanjay Chordia said, "Corona taught us that we need to contribute socially along with ourselves. Children need to be nurtured from an early age, to grow intellectually, mentally and emotionally, to be inclusive, to be inspired by people from different walks of life." For the same purpose, Suryadatta foundation brings this ideal personality to the fore through Lifetime Achievement and National Awards Ceremonies."

Acharya Lokesh Muniji also provided guidance. Kiran Kumar, Ajinkya Dev, Tarun Kumar Chaudhary, Abhay Kumar Jain, Riya Jain also expressed their views. Anup Jalota's live hymn brought the environment of vivid colors to the program. This program was hosted by Shilpa Bhende and Siddhant Chordia. Group Director Dr. Shailesh Kasande gave a vote of thanks to everyone in the end.
